It has been a long time since we last posted on the blog so there is a lot to get through so settle in!

Today's big news is that we can finally tell you what we are doing to keep our flash games alive past the end of this year when flash will be removed from popular browsers.

We have behind the scenes been working with the super talented guys at Poki (<https://poki/>) to make our games playable in HTML5! This means they will remain playable in browsers the way they were designed to be played!

The first game is Bad Ice Cream which you can play TODAY by navigating to our brand new HTML5 section: <nitrome/html5-games>. More games will be following starting with the Bad Ice Cream sequels over the next two weeks and when we're done, we hope to have the entire flash catalogue of 130+ games playable in HTML5!

Time to talk a little more about the HTML5 versions. They are not ports! The games are running off the exact code of the original games pulled directly from the original flash files. What the wizards making this happen have made is more comparable to an emulator - a Nitrome emulator - feek! Being an emulator of sorts some people may see performance differences to these versions but the code is highly optimised and will improve even further as the team continue to work on it.

Diego Armando Maradona (Spanish: [ˈdje.ɾo maˈɾa.ɲo]; 30 October 1960 – 21 November 2020) was an Argentine professional footballer who played as a forward. Widely regarded as one of the greatest players in the history of the sport, he was one of the two joint winners of the FIFA Player of the 20th Century award.

An advanced playmaker who operated in the classic number 10 position, Maradona's vision, passing, ball control, and dribbling skills were combined with his small stature, which gave him a low centre of gravity and allowed him to manoeuvre better than most other players. His presence and leadership on the field had a great effect on his team's general performance, while he would often be singled out by the opposition. In addition to his creative abilities, he possessed an eye for goal and was known to be a free kick specialist. A precocious talent, Maradona was given the nickname El Pibe de Oro ("The Golden Boy")

Maradona was the first player to set the world record transfer fee twice: in 1982 when he transferred to Barcelona for £5 million, and in 1984 when he moved to Napoli for a fee of £6.9 million. He played for Argentinos Juniors, Estudiantes de La Plata, Boca Juniors, and FC Barcelona.
