Papyrus for the dead The 52-foot-long scroll was found at Saqqara in May 2024. It contains chapters from the Book of the Dead. It was recently restored and translated into Arabic and is now on display at The Egyptian Museum in Cairo. The text is written in hieratic, a script derived from hieroglyphs.

One of the more popular, if not the most popular, versions of this trope is the Necronomicon, a book as notorious as it is fictitious.

You might be scratching your head at that last line because you, an intell ectual, know that of course the Necronomicon isn't a real book.
