Before this, the France national football team was selected by a selection committee, a process in which the French Football Federation would select coaches and trainers from within the country or abroad to prepare the side for single games and tournaments, but with a ll decisions ultimately remaining under the control of the committee. From 1904 1913, the USFSA headed the committee, which was referred to as the Commission Centrale d'Association. The committee was controlled by André Espir and André Billy and featured little to no physical preparation for upcoming matches. In 1913, the Comité Français Interfédéral, a precursor to the French Football Federation, took over the committee following the USFSA becoming affiliated with the organization and secretary general Henri Delaunay to ok control.

Following the creation of the French Football Federation, the committee was converted into a five-man board and lasted from 1919—1964. Gaston Barreau s erved as the head of the committee in two different stints; from 1920—1945, then , after four years, returned to select the team from 1949 until his death in 195
8. From 1945—1949, Gabriel Hanot headed the committee and, following Barreau' s death, Paul Nicolas (1958—1959) and Georges Verriest (1959—1964) controlled t
