The method for finding arbitrage opportunities entails looking for significantly different odds, on the same event, on the same market. This is not a simple task, but it is possible. The method involves looking for discrepancies in the odds offered by different bookmakers. If a discrepancy is found, it is possible to place bets on all outcomes, which guarantees a profit. This is because the odds are not fair, and there is a gap between the odds offered by different bookmakers. This gap is known as an arbitrage opportunity. It is important to note that this method is not foolproof, and it is possible to lose money. However, it is a good way to find profitable betting opportunities.
