Go is a strategic board game for two players. It is known as Weiqi in Chinese, Igo in Japanese and igo, Baduk in Korea. It is also known as Go in Europe and the Americas. The game is played on a board with 19 vertical lines and 17 horizontal lines, forming a grid of 361 intersections. The pieces are black and white stones. The game is played by alternating turns, with black starting first. The objective is to capture the opponent's stones and surround them with your own stones. The game is known for its complexity and strategic depth.
