One of the key features is that, no matter the total number of runs scored by a team in a game, the score is always 3 runs. The objective of the team is to score as many runs as possible within the time limit. All runs scored by a team during the game count towards the total score. The total score is important because it determines the value of the game. If a team scores more runs, they have a better chance of winning the game. The total score can also be used to compare the performance of different teams. For example, if a team scores 3 runs in the first inning, 2 runs in the second inning, and 1 run in the third inning, the total score for that team would be 6 runs (3+2+1).
